YOUR ATTENTION
For one moment, please!

DO YOU WEAR PANTS?
Do they fit you?
Are you well supplied with them?

These are pertinent questions, but at this season of the year are to the point.

In looking over your wardrobe can't you see that there is quite a bit of wear in that coat and vest yet, if you only had a pair of trousers to go with them. (This is where economy which means wealth comes in.)

Before the arrival of our Fall Stock we are making a clean and clear sweep of all our Summer Trouserings

FROM $5 PER PAIR UP—SEE THEM.

It will pay you to walk 40 miles to get a pair of our $9 trousers for $7, or our $12 trousers for $9. And then again there are those $35 Scotch Cheviot Tweed Suits for $30, and only a few of our $25 ones for $20; and just wait until you see those elegant Venetian Overcoatings we are whacking out at $25.

There are no Shelf-worn or Back Numbers in these goods; they are all this season's purchases, and will be made up with the same care in finish and workmanship I put on all my ordered work.

IT IS WONDERFUL HOW IT IS DONE

but we have to keep up with the times when leading the tailoring procession in Victoria. Our stock of Black and Blue Black Worsteds is always "up to Dick," every grade being well represented and every garment guaranteed by the wonderful

COLOMBIA'S QUARANTINE.

The United States of Colombia Close Atlantic Ports to European Trade.

Shocking Murder in New York State. Gigantic Reclamation Scheme in Florida

Wanamaker's Position—Iron Hall Scandals—Puerto Cabello Captured by Storm.

PANAMA, via Galveston, Aug. 29.—The Federal authorities of the United States of Colombia to-day issued an order closing all ports on the Atlantic coast of Colombia to vessels arriving with cholera. This puts a stop at once to communication with Germany, France and Belgium, as fas as conducted through Antwerp, Hamburg, Havre and other places where cholera is known or suspected to exist.

Fighting in Venezuela.

PANAMA, via Galveston, August 29.—Puerte Caballo was captured by Crespists on Aug. 22nd. The storming force numbered 2500. There was little opposition except at the fort, near the entrance of the port. The garrison repelled two attempts to take the fort by assault, and, according to the latest advices, the garrison is still in possession. Four vessels with government troops on board have been sent out from La Sjayara to aid the garrison in the port. The steamship bringing this news did not communicate with the French man-of-war now lying off Puerte Caballo. La Sjayara Caracas was still held by the de facto government on Aug. 26th. Statements to the effect that the city has been captured by General Urdenata should be discredited. General Urdenta is a Colombian and cannot take part in the revolution as has been represented.

The Sweet Bye-and-Bye.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 29.—One of the most gigantic drainage schemes ever known in America is under way in Florida, some of the stockholders being wealthy residents of this city. No stock is for sale. The company has secured a tract of swamp land, 80 miles long and from three to 12 miles wide, along the St. John and Indian reserves. The land has three feet deep of sugar producing soil. The whole tract is to be drained and devoted to sugar raising. The territory will produce enough sugar to supply all North America. It is estimated that it will require $4,000,000 to complete the drainage. The engineers are now at work. The digging out of the trenches, building dykes and laying of pipes will begin in October.

An Awful Deed.

WOLCOTT, N. Y., Aug. 29. — Word reached here this morning of a terrible tragedy at dusk last evening at Ira Hill, Cayuga Co. A farm hand named Foster was opening bundles of oats and accidentally struck the hand of the feeder, whose name has not yet been learned, with his knife. This so angered the feeder that he grasped Foster and threw him into the separator, where he was ground to pieces. Foster's brother, who was working in the barn, witnessed the tragedy, and killed the murderer on the spot with a pitchfork.

A Dance of Death.

HAUGHTON, La., Aug. 29.—Maurice Miller, "Bud" Carter and John Carter were killed in a fight last night at a dance at Allen brothers' mill. The trouble rose between the men when Miller started to dance with Ida Pilkinton, whom "Bud" Carter claimed as his partner. The row lasted about five minutes, and at the end of that time the Carters, who had been shot, were dead. Miller, who was cut walked across the room and sat down and made and smoked a cigarette. He was taken to the home of Mr. Pilkinton where he died.

The B'rith Abraham.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29.—The hotels are filling up with delegates to the convention of the Supreme Lodge of the order of B'rith Abraham of the United states, a noted Jewish social and beneficial organization with a large membership scattered over the country. The sessions of the convention will continue until Friday. Numerous important changes in the constitution of the order are to be considered.

Loss Heavy; Insurance Small.

PETOSKY, Mich., Aug. 29.—The Northern Michigan Lumber Co's., factory at Fanderages, near Oden, seven miles north of Petosky was destroyed by fire yesterday. The company employed over 100 men. The loss is between $100,000 and $200,000. The insurance is comparatively small.

Important Political Move.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—It will be officially announced at Republican headquarters to-day that President Harrison will leave Loon lake for New York on Wednesday, reaching this city on Wednesday night. He will remain here for two days, as the guest of Whitelaw Reid.

Interested in Sealskins.

Mr. George Barber, representing Mr. C. D. Ladd, of San Francisco, the sealskin buyer who bought the coast catch, is in the city, looking into the market on skins. He has called upon several of the sealing men already, but has not as yet made any purchase. It is very likely that the sealers will stick to their plan made some time ago, to ship direct to the London sales in October. Nothing will be done, however, in that direction until several schooners now out are in. They are off on the Russian side, and their failure to come gives rise to the hope that they are doing well. This is strengthened by the last reports, which were very favorable.

General Von Caprivi.

General von Caprivi, the present Chancellor of Germany, will probably retire from his position within the next few weeks. This is due altogether to the difference of opinion existing between the emperor and the chancellor on what is known as "The Bismarck Crisis." Von Caprivi has been urging a prosecution of "the Iron Chancellor" for his recent anti-government utterances and Emperor William has refused to take steps in that direction. Von Caprivi won his spurs during the Franco-Prussian war, and, after the death of Emperors William and Frederick, had much to do with the re-organization of the army on its present massive footing. He succeeded Bismarck as Chancellor of the Empire about three years ago. Von Caprivi recently resigned from the Prussian ministry owing to a difference of opinion on education legislation. In appearance he greatly resembles Bismarck, although fully seven or eight years his junior.

DOMINION NEWS.

French Dynamiters Attempt to Seek Refuge in Montreal But Are Intercepted.

Lawyer Cloutere Regrets That He Has Such a Strong-Minded Mother-in-Law.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—The recent dynamite outrages in France which caused so much excitement, and which were telegraphed the world over, led to sensational results to-day in Montreal. A few days ago it was rumored that Montreal had been chosen by some of these unwelcome persons as a refuge. Yesterday the police were notified by a French official to search the city for the suspects. After a long search the detectives this morning arrested, in a house on Commissioner street, two men, a woman and two children, on suspicion of being dynamiters. The woman is the wife of one of the men and is mother of the two children. The whole party was soon bundled into a carriage and taken to police headquarters. Two trunks and all the baggage found in the place were also landed at the central police station, but as yet have not been searched. The women and children were put in the detective office, and the men were taken this afternoon before Judge Dugas. Present at the trial was a representative of the Parisian government. The two suspects said they were not guilty of the grave charge against them. It appears they came to Montreal two weeks ago on the steamship Parisian. They are supposed to have sailed from England to this port. On the other hand it is suspected that they went to England from Paris, where they hid until they took ship to Montreal. None of the detectives would say a word about the arrests.

His Dear Mother-in-Law.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—An extraordinary scene was witnessed here at noon yesterday, when Alfred Cloutere, a prominent lawyer, passed from the court house to the prison, handcuffed like a common felon to Francois Paradis, an old penitentiary bird and desperate criminal. The lawyer has been married a little over a year. A few weeks ago his mother-in-law uninvited, it is said, took up her abode with her son-in-law and immediately began to run the family. The lawyer tried all peaceable means to have her leave. Friday night there was an outbreak between the pair, and Cloutere claims that to save himself he had to resort to forcible means. Yesterday the woman applied to the police court for a warrant for her son-in-law's arrest, charging him with assault. The court closes at noon on Saturdays, and the arrest was so timed that the prisoner arrived as the doors were closing. It was too late to attempt to secure bail. The prison van was at the door to take the ordinary prisoners away, and poor Cloutere, despite all protests at the indignity, was handcuffed to the criminal, bundled into the van and driven off to jail.

INVADING GREAT BRITAIN.

Consternation Created by the Death at Dundee of a Sailor on a Hamburg Vessel.

Lord Rosebery and M. de Staal of Russia, Discussing the Pamir Difficulty.

Terrible Mortality at the Welsh Mine Disaster—A Bold Russian Captain.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Chief Engineer Walker of the steamer Gerona, which arrived at Middlesboro from Hamburg yesterday, died of cholera to day at Dundee. The news has created a tremendous sensation, not only in Dundee, but everywhere else where members of the Gerona's crew have gone. The National sanitary authorities are inquiring as to the remainder of the crew.

Russian Contumacy.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that trouble between the Russian and Roumanian governments is likely, as a result of the attempt of a Russian steamboat captain to defy the health authorities at the port of Sulina, at the mouth of the Danube. The captain's vessel was suspected of carrying men infected with cholera, and was signalled to stop at quarantine. The captain ignored the order and began steaming away. The Roumanian gunboats at Sulina thereupon prepared to fire on the Russians. The captain then hove to and submitted under protest, to the examination of his ship. No cholera was found on board.

MERELY A REMNANT.

Only Forty-three Survivors of the Terrible Mining Disaster in Wales.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Forty-three of the men imprisoned by the explosion in Park Slip mine at Aberkenhfend, have been found alive; 32 have been taken out. The other eight were too weak to be removed and are still below. For the remaining 103 miners there is no hope. Secretary Asquith has arrived at Aberkenhfend by special train and the Lord Mayor has undertaken the task of raising funds for the families left destitute by the loss of fathers or brothers in the accident. Of the eight men who were too weak to be removed from the mine six have recovered and the other two are dead.

THE CARON COMMISSION.

Prospects of the Commissioners Sitting in Ottawa Shortly.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—The Dominion Rifle Association meeting opened to-day on Rideau range, where there was a larger number of competitors than usual. The weather was excellent, being clear and good for shooting.

I learn on excellent authority that the commission appointed to enquire into the charges against Sir Adolphe Caron, preferred at last meeting of Parliament will meet in Ottawa at an early date. Mr. Archibald, of the firm of Archibald & Foster, Montreal, who has been appointed counsel for Sir Adolphe, is here making arrangements for the meeting of the commission and the manner of conducting his case. It will be remembered that Edgar laid the charges in the first instance, but they were afterwards voted down and a resolution amending them put by Mr. Bowell and carried. It is not likely that under the circumstances Edgar will appear before the commission; it is neither likely that much will result from the investigation. The next issue of the Canada Gazette will in all likelihood give the date of meeting of the commission. The commissioners are Judges Taît and Routhier.

Major Clark has arrived in this city and is conferring with the Fisheries Department regarding his deep sea fisheries scheme on the Pacific coast. He leaves for Montreal to-night, and will sail on the 3rd September for Liverpool by the Parisian.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.

Well-to-Do Indians—A Priest Counsels His People—Naughty Klootchman.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 29.—Indian Agent McTiernan has returned from an official visit to the Pemberton Meadows Indians. He says the Indians have under cultivation a larger acreage than in any previous year. The crops are so large that the Indians do not know what to do with them. They cannot sell them until there are new roads so they can reach the markets. They look forward to the opening of the trail to Howe Sound.

The eastern train was three hours late this afternoon. The steamer Rithet will wait for the passengers.

Lawrence Roberts, a Siwash, was sentenced in the police court this morning to three months' hard labor for being drunk and disorderly.

There is some talk of cutting down in the fire and police departments.

Tosh McKenzie was charged with assaulting John Linn last night. McKenzie did not appear in court this morning, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

At the masses in St. Peter's Roman Catholic cathedral on Sunday morning, Rev. Father Ouellette, the pastor, told the parishioners that they were not allowed to send their children to public schools where Catholic schools existed. Catholic schools were conducted just as efficiently as public schools. In public schools Catholic children stood in danger of losing their faith, either from prejudiced teachers or anti-Catholic school literature. Father Ouellette warned the poor members of the congregation that it was no excuse to say they were too poor to pay the Catholic school dues because their children were educated by priests and nuns free of charge.

It is reported that three klootchmen belonging to the upper Fraser Indians have run away with some young bucks. The chief of the tribe says that since father Chirouse was arraigned before the courts for the flogging of an Indian girl for alleged immorality, and news of his imprisonment spread among the Indians, the klootchmen no longer respect the tribal laws and put at defiance the authority of their chiefs.

NOTES FROM NANAIMO.

An Enterprising Female Tries to Dodge the Vaccination Issue But Fails.

The Steamers Comox Cutch and Skidegate Have a Lively Time at the Dock.

NANAIMO, Aug. 29.—It was evident the engine driver on the up train from the capital on Saturday evening had orders not to wait at Nanaimo station long, apparently in order to thwart the health officers, if possible; which they were successful in doing. One woman residing in the McAdie block went to Wellington to escape vaccination. At Wellington a buggy was waiting for her, and she was driven to the city. The woman was not so smart as she intended to be, and before she could alight she was compelled to visit the chief constable's office, where she had to submit to vaccination.

The steamer Comox came over from Vancouver yesterday at noon, crowded with passengers, on an excursion trip, but they were not permitted to land, as the vessel had not a bill of health from Vancouver. Dr. Praeger was accosted with all sorts of impudent questions. The captain, finding he could not land, decided to visit Chemainus. The vessel called at Nanaimo about 7 p.m. and the captain requested Dr. Praeger to write down his reasons for refusing the passengers a landing, which the doctor refused to do. The captain found it was no use attempting to trifle with the Nanaimo authorities, so took his departure for Vancouver. The passengers of the Cutch were also refused a landing for having no bill of health, after having been warned. Neither were the mails allowed to be landed. Two of the passengers came ashore and were placed in quarantine. Some of the passengers of the Comox threatened to come ashore and the fire bell was promptly rung for the hose cart, which soon arrived on the spot. The steamer Skidegate arrived at 7 a.m. this morning with Mr. Bonner, teller of the Bank of B C., on board, but he was politely informed he would not be allowed to land, as the vessel had not been provided with a bill of health.

St. Paul's church was packed to overcrowding last evening when Bishop Hills confirmed four young men and one young lady. It was given out that it would probably be the last time this eminent ecclesiastic would preach in Nanaimo, and in consequence a large number flocked to hear him, and members of other churches in the city put in an appearance. The Lord Bishop will proceed to Wellington to-morrow to consecrate the new Episcopal church there. The church in Cedar district was formally consecrated to-day.

Among the many amateur sailors who sported a sailing boat on the harbor yesterday was Mr. A. Cowie and a few friends. A strong breeze was prevailing at the time and Archie was making his vessel execute some intricate nautical manœuvres when suddenly the mainsail filled and before the sheet could be cast loose the craft capsized and precipitated all hands into the water. Fortunately the accident was witnessed by several other boats that were out, and the shipwrecked crowd were speedily rescued with nothing more than a wetting.

The Nelson and Fort Sheppard.

In regard to the extension of the Spokane & Northern and the construction of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard railroads, D. C. Corbin is quoted by the Spokane Spokesman as saying:—"I shall not build any railroad this year. Next year the Spokane & Northern will be extended to the international boundary, there to connect with the Nelson & Fort Sheppard. It is ten miles from our terminus to the boundary, sixty miles from there to Nelson, twenty-five miles from there to Ainsworth and twelve miles more to Kaslo. The Fort Sheppard road will go up the east side of the Columbia, opposite to the fort, which is on the west bank of the river. There are several surveying parties at present in the field, and we shall begin work early in the season and complete the line as rapidly as possible." Mr. Corbin says there is no truth in the story that the Canadian Pacific owns any interest in his road. The statement is utterly without foundation, as was the old story that he was backed by the Northern Pacific. His road is an independent proposition by itself.

Cleaning the Cisterns.

The members of the fire department have commenced pumping the stagnant water out of the cisterns and replacing it with fresh water. This morning they cleaned out the one on the corner of Government and Yates streets.

C. N. Armstrong, president of the Montreal and Sorel Railway Company, was committed to jail for contempt by the railway commission investigating the disposal of a subsidy granted to that road, a few days ago, for refusing to produce the company's books. He took out a writ of habeas corpus, and has been liberated on the ground that the commission had no right to commit him for contempt.

Harvesting operations have been carried on vigorously in Manitoba during the past week, though retarded somewhat by showery weather. It is estimated that fully half of the wheat has been harvested, so there is sure to be 10,000,000 bushels of sound wheat in the province this season. It will take two weeks more to complete the work, but if the weather keeps fair next week there will not be much wheat left standing by Saturday night. There is no damage whatever from frost as yet.

Attorney-General Longley, of Nova Scotia, has an article in the September number of the Lake Magazine on Canada's future. He expresses great admiration for Sir Oliver Mowat, but severely criticizes what he terms "The Gag Law," applied by Mowat, to Elgin Meyers, who was recently dismissed from his office as Crown Attorney of Dufferin county, because he expressed himself favorable to the annexation of Canada to the United States. Longley sees no reason why an officer of the Crown should not be as much at liberty to speak of annexation as any other person in the country.

Referring editorially to the Rome cablegram stating that the congregation of the Propaganda has requested the French Government to protest to Great Britain against closing Catholic schools in Manitoba, the Globe says: "Either the dispatch is inaccurate or the Roman authorities are under some strange misapprehension of the facts." Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Minister of Customs, when shown the dispatch stating that the Propaganda had requested the French Government to protest against the closing of Catholic schools in Manitoba, said: "I have no knowledge that any such request has been made, but there is no doubt that the Catholics of Manitoba have a right to take such action. There is a precedent for it. In 1881 the Catholics of the island of Ceylon, thinking that their rights were being slighted, informed the Vatican of the fact, and the attention of the British Government was officially directed to the matter, with beneficial results."

Wanamaker's Position.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Although Postmaster General Wanamaker has made the largest individual contribution so far received by the Republican committee, his check calling for $25,000, as against his donation of $15,000 four years ago, it is denied by those close to him that his munificence has any connection with possible cabinet honors in the event of President Harrison's re-election. More than once or twice during the past year the Postmaster General has said, both for publication and in conversation with his intimate friends, that under no circumstances would he again take a position in the cabinet. He has found the office of Postmaster General an exceedingly onerous one, especially as he has given it all his time and attention to the neglect of his own important business interests. He would gladly have resigned long ago had it not been for his unwillingness to embarrass the president, and his desire to perfect numerous reforms in the service.

Order of the Iron Hall.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The recent extraordinary disclosures regarding the financial management of the secret organization known as the Order of the Iron Hall is likely to lead to a shaking up of quite a number of secret orders organized purely for the payment of death insurance. The orders have been rapidly multiplying of late years, and many of them have obtained an extensive membership covering nearly all of the eastern and western states. Few of them make any annual financial report except to the governing bodies variously known as "senates," "cabinets," "supreme lodges," etc., and by these bodies such reports are usually regarded as privileged documents, not to be made public to the general body of membership, the latter having to be content in remote instances with statements of the cash on hand and the amount due to beneficiaries on account of death. Still the disclosures concerning the Iron Hall, and the astounding developments made by the state insurance commissioner of Massachusetts in his last report concerning the status of numerous secret beneficial societies, a strong sentiment has sprung up in favor of clear and lucid financial reports by the supreme treasurers of the different orders at semi-annual intervals, and it is probable that this feeling will find so general a concurrence as to compel the attainment of the object sought.

CONVICT LABOR.

Peculiar Methods of Dealing With Criminals in the South.

Apropos of the convict labor question now troubling Tennessee, a gentleman at present living in this city, who was born and bred in North Carolina, gives some interesting facts. He said this morning to a TIMES reporter:

"The convict contract system has been a much-abused one. Years ago in Texas and Tennessee the wife of a bank cashier, or the wife or friend of any one else fairly well-to-do, sent to state's prison could go and hire him out and he would not serve a day in jail. Then I have known instances of felons being let out to corporations and either given easy billets or sub-hired by friends. This was at a later period legislated against, but still a man with money could escape confinement and be allowed to go among friends after being sentenced to jail. Then the system in the mines and other industries killed free labor. The mine owners paid 20 cents a day for the men, fed them very well and got good results, too, for the convicts worked hard. You can see that no one could compete against them. Public feeling against the system is strong, and it will gradually be abolished."

Mr. Hill Will Make Trouble.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 27.—A sensation was created in railway circles this evening by the official announcement that the Great Northern Railway had given notice of its withdrawal from the agreement of the Transcontinental Association, to take effect on July 1st, 1893. This notice was sent by wire to the Association in session in New York. The president of the Great Northern, Mr. J. J. Hill, said to-night that the object of the withdrawal of his company is to place it in a position on the completion of its through line to the coast to adopt a policy with respect to rates which will promote the interests of the cities which it reaches and which have heretofore suffered from discrimination. The Great Northern road will have its line completed by the time the withdrawal goes into effect, and it expects to absolutely control the traffic. Its entire line is controlled upon the basis of a total stock issue less than half that of any transcontinental line, and it can therefore pay a dividend on receipts that will be merely fixed charges for any other line. Mr. Hill claims that every inland town of the Pacific northwest has been a rate sufferer through the agreement with the Transcontinental Association, and he can make rates that will remunerate his line and bankrupt any other line. The Northern Pacific road will be compelled at once to follow suit by abandoning the agreement, and it is predicted here that the result will be to disrupt the Association.

Cannot be Discounted.

CHICAGO, Ills., Aug. 27.—Few patrons of Mandel Bros.' lace department are aware that they have been attended by a real Count, yet such is the fact. Count T. Harris von Flickenstein, whose marriage in Baltimore was reported in last night's dispatches, is an employee of Mandel Bros. His father was a Bavarian Count, although T. Harris was born in Cumberland, Md., He has been in the lace curtain department at Mandel Bros. as stock-keeper since February, and is described as a quiet, modest fellow. His companions had no knowledge of his rank until a few weeks ago when an article appeared in a Chicago paper in reference to it. The Count was married yesterday to Miss Kate, daughter of Lieut. Col. Ford of the U. S. Marine Corps, at the residence of Cardinal Gibbons, his eminence officiating. The Count and Countess are expected in Chicago soon.

Afghan Troubles.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Times from Simla says: The governor has replied to the Ameer of Afghanistan again expressing the hope that affairs will settle down and enable him to receive the Roberts mission. A Calcutta dispatch to the Times says that rumors come from various sources that the Ameer has suffered another reverse at the hands of the Hazaras.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—It is stated in well-informed quarters here that M. de Staal, the Russian ambassador to England, has entered upon an exchange of views on the Pamir question with Lord Roseberry, the British Foreign Secretary, and that a satisfactory settlement is likely to result.

THE REVIEWS.

Interesting Numbers of the Westminster and the Nineteenth Century.

"The Westminster Review" for August is full of entertaining and pleasant reading. W. J. O'Neill Daunt discusses the condition of "Ireland under Grattan's Parliament." J. B. Firth has a notable paper on the development of the English novel, entitled "Some Aspects of Sentiment." F. W. Haine discusses "The Modern Protective System." There is an interesting series of "Glimpses of Tom Moore," contributed by J. Petrie O'Byrne. Frederick Reutter has a thoughtful paper on "Education in Germany." George Greenwood argues "The Ethics of Field Sports." T. Rice Holmes has a caustic paper on "Mr. Froude and his Critics." Robert Owen discusses "Unfettered Banking," and the number concludes with its usual complete and valuable summary of "Contemporary Literature," a department which distinguishes the "Westminster" from all other reviews, and in which it has achieved an enviable reputation for scholarship and reliability. New York: Leonard Scott Publishing Co.

The Nineteenth Century for August opens with contributions by eight prominent men, who give at some length their reasons for voting for Mr. Gladstone. The writers are Sir Thomas Farrer, the Master of University College, Oxford; Sir William Markby, Professor Alfred R. Wallace, Mr. H. G. Hewlett, the Rev. H. Russell Wakefield, Professor Minto and the Dean of Westminster. They make a strong case for the Liberal leader, and are extremely interesting as a varied expression of opinion on the current political question. Colonel Kennedy Herbert writes entertainly on "The Art of Dining," a most important art from his point of view. Mr. W. Fraser Rae has a well-informed article on "The Egyptian Newspaper Press." Dr. Jean Paul Richter contributes a valuable paper on "Art Studentship of the Early Renaissance Painters." Mr. Archibald Forbes' article on "The French Empress and the German War" is alternately thrilling and pathetic. The Governor of Tasmania discusses "Lending Money to Australia." Prince Kropotkin continues his studies in "Recent Science" in an eminently readable paper. C. S. Loch writes on "The Confusion in Medical Charities." Edward Dicey discusses the results of the recent election in a paper on "The Verdict of England." There are articles by Chas. F. Gross on "Muley Hassan," by Major Willoughby Verner on "Dungeness or Dover?" a remarkable account of "A Trial by Lynch Law" by R. B. Townsend, and a most interesting series of "Notes of a Virginian Journey," by E. S. Nadal, an American gentleman whose numerous contributions to American periodicals have given him a wide reputation. LIFE IN A GREAT CITY.

The Story of a Little Girl Who Was Arrested and Confined in the Tombs.

A short time ago an excellent lady, who is much interested in the work of ameliorating the condition of prisoners, induced me to visit with her the notorious Tombs prison in New York city. My friend wished to talk with a German girl who was incarcerated for the only reason that she appeared to be a vagrant, without home or friends.

The matron of the female department received us kindly, and soon brought into the room a girl of fourteen, of slender figure and thinly clad, though the day was cold. The child's face was intelligent, but the gray eyes had a hard, defiant look, as if she was at war with the world.

The poor feel all the more for their inability to express themselves. The girl hesitated and seemed sullen when addressed in English, but when I spoke to her in German the hard look left her eyes and she seemed to become more human.

"How long have you been here?" I asked.

"Only two days, sir," she replied.

"Why are you here?"

"I will tell you, sir," she said, with what seemed sudden frankness. "I was working for a lady. I had to get up early and go to bed late, and I never had any rest. When I could not do everything the woman beat me; she beat me like a dog. I could not stand it; then I ran away and wandered in the streets, for I had no home."

"But you were arrested standing near a saloon," I said.

"I will tell you about that, sir. My father drinks, but I found him and told him I wanted to get my clothes I left at that cruel woman's. He got them and, sir, he pawned them for drink. My father, when he is sober, picks rags, and I told him I would help him, but he said 'No, you are too old, or not old enough for that.' I gathered rags and father sold them and drank. I was waiting outside the saloon for him when I was arrested."

"How long have you had to work?" I asked.

"How long?" she repeated. "Why, sir, there was never a time in all my memory when I did not have to work. My mother died when I was six, and since then, until I went to live with that woman, I have helped my father and been starved and been beaten. No one ever gave me a cent or spoke a kind word to me. Oh, God in heaven! why was I ever born?" she cried out with indescribable passion, while the eyes took on their hard, defiant expression. Then she continued:

"The rich can do as they please, and the officers do not bother them, but the poor—the poor must feel the hunger and the hard blows. I do not want to live! Why should I live? Why does not the God they say is so good to all have mercy on me and kill me?"

This from a child of fourteen—a child who might have made a noble, beautiful woman under proper surroundings—made my blood run cold.

"If this lady and myself find you a good home will you not be willing to remain there?" I asked.

She looked at me doubtingly, then said:

"Mein herr, you look honest and good, but no one can be trusted. How can I trust any one when all is lies and deceit? No, I do not feel like a child only fourteen, sir, but—but I feel like an old woman, and I wish the good God would kill me!" And now she broke down, wrung her bony hands and sobbed as if heart were breaking.

"But you do not wish to stay in prison?" I said.

"Oh, God, no! Oh, there is such a weight on my heart here! There is nothing but bad to learn in prison. If they keep me here I will kill myself—that will end it and I can rest, and the hunger will be gone."

My lady friend then explained to the girl that she wished to take her to a good home, where she would find kind friends, but she must agree to be bound to remain with them till she was eighteen.

At mention of the word "bound" the hard expression came into the girl's eyes again, and she said, with a half savage defiance:

"Oh, I cannot! I am not used to decent people! I will tell you the truth. If I was bound I should die if I did not run away."

The girl was then removed and my friend talked to the matron. She told us that often children of ten or twelve were brought to her, and that their hard lives gave them the ways of adults who had grown weary of life and imbittered with the world.

My friend Mrs. L. talked with Marie, the girl in the corridor, and so great was her horror of the prison that the girl got over her prejudice against being bound, for the time at least, and consented to go with her.

Marie's release was obtained, and as we walked toward the Bowery Mrs. L. explained that she had secured homes for many girls and that they were now happy and doing well.

"But don't you think," said the girl in broken English, "it would be better if all poor girls were dead?"

Mrs. L. whispered about a kind God.

"No, no!" burst in Marie. "If God is good, then there would be no poor, no hunger, no suffering!"

Mrs. L. took the girl to her own house that night and kept her for two days, while she was making arrangements to have her sent to a good home in the country.

This incident, so familiar to all who travel in a great city with their eyes open, impressed me very much. The lights seemed dimmer and the faces of the little ones in my own home less light hearted and happy that night.

I could but think of the millions sent off each year to save the heathen, when the children of our own race are growing up criminal, vicious and godless in our midst.

And this is our boasted civilization! Within the shadows of our stately churches our own heathen are dying of want. Our jails are filled with criminals nurtured to vice under the regis of our law.

At one extremity is the wife of the millionaire, bedecked with jewels and lavishing her languid affections on a poodle. At the other extremity is Marie, the rag picker's daughter, and when she goes astray for the want of a kind hand to guide, the millionaire's wife kisses her poodle and deplores the viciousness of the poor.

A Few Bulls.

We hear a great deal about Irish bulls, but as a matter of fact this species of blundering wit is by no means confined to our friends the Hibernians. During the Fenian troubles some years ago, a Canadian paper published what it claimed was a toast offered at a Fenian meeting in Montreal. It read: "Here's to Stephens. May he live till he sees chapels built ten miles long and seven miles broad, and may they be slated with the shoulder blades of Englishmen, and the walls whitewashed with their blood."

"Bull Run" Russell, well known in this country during the war as a correspondent of the London Times, in one of his letters from Egypt, writes," As there were no other asses to be found, the Duke of Sutherland, Colonel Tuesdale, Colonel Marshall and I were obliged to trudge on foot."

It was an English lady who requested a painter to paint her portrait with a book in her hand, reading aloud, and her servant in a corner, where he could not be seen, but within easy call.

A professor in Edinburgh university was making a chemical experiment before his class, when an explosion took place and the vessel was shattered to pieces. Holding up a fragment of the glass, he said very gravely, "Gentlemen, I have made this experiment often with this very phial and I never knew it to break in my hand before."

There are men still living who can recall the ridicule heaped on General Taylor for a sentence that occurred in his famous message to the Thirty-first congress. It was as follows: "We are at peace with all the world, and seek to maintain our cherished relations of amity with the rest of mankind."

Mr. Buchanan matched this in a speech in which he said, "I do believe, gentlemen, that mankind, as well as the people of the United States, are interested in the preservation of the Union."

John C. Calhoun, in commenting upon the clause in the Declaration of Independence to the effect that all men are created equal, said, "Only two men were created, and one of these was a woman."

I recall that as a boy I imitated my schoolmates and all imitated our great grandfathers by writing in the fly leaves of our text books, "Steal not this book, my honest friend," without being struck by the absurdity of an "honest friend's" stealing anything.

All literature is full of these queer blunders. Dr. Johnson, in his dictionary, defines "a garret" as "the highest room in a house;" then he defines cockloft as "the room over the garret."

Think of Shakespeare writing:

"Cæsar never did wrong without just cause."

He makes Hamlet say:

"That undiscovered country, from whose bourne no traveler returns."

A sailor on hearing this at a second performance shouted out: "Oh, that's bosh! Say, Hamlet, didn't you see your father's ghost last night, or hev you forgot?"

A Dictionary Story.

When Dr. Sam Johnson had completed his dictionary, which, after long years of correction, had completely exhausted the patience of Mr. Andrew Millar, the publisher, the latter acknowledged the receipt of the last sheet in the following note:

"Andrew Millar sends his compliments to Mr. Samuel Johnson, with the money for the last sheet of the copy of the dictionary, and thanks God he has done with him."

To this rude note the old doctor returned the following bright answer:

"Samuel Johnson returns his compliments to Mr. Andrew Millar, and is very glad to find—as he does by his note—that Andrew Millar has the grace to thank God for anything."

It will interest our lawmakers at this day to know that the word "excise" offended the ministry of the king, and it was submitted to Mr. Murray, then attorney general, and afterward Lord Mansfield, whether it was not a libel for which the old scholar should be at once arrested.

The following is a copy of the case submitted, with the opinion of the attorney general upon it:

CASE.

Mr. Samuel Johnson has lately published a book entitled "A Dictionary of the English Language," in which the words are deducted from the originals, and illustrated in their different significations by examples from the best writers, to which are prefixed a history of the language and an English grammar.

Under the title "Excise," are the following words: "Excise, n. s. (accijs, Dutch; excisium. Latin), a hateful tax levied upon commodities, and adjudged, not by the common judges of property, but by wretches hired by those to whom excise is paid.

"The people should pay a ratable tax for their sheep and an excise for everything that they should eat.—Hayward.

"Ambitious now to take excise
Of a more fragrant paradise.
—Cleaveland.

"EXCISE.

"With hundred rows of teeth the shark exceeds,
And on all trades, like Cassawar, she feeds.
—Marvel.

"Can hire large houses and oppress the poor
By farmed excise.
—Dryden's Juvenal."

The author's definition being observed by the commissioners of excise, they desire the favor of your opinion.

Question—Whether it will not be considered as a libel, and if so whether it is not proper to proceed against the author, printers and publishers thereof, or any or which of them, by information, or how otherwise?

OPINION.

I am of opinion that it is a libel; but under all the circumstances I should think it is better to give him an opportunity of altering his definition, and in case he doesn't threaten him with prosecution. (Signed) W. MURRAY.

Time was allowed for Johnson to alter his definition, but he was not to be frightened, and so this definition, with many equally quaint and amusing, remains in the dictionary. To think of prosecuting the author of such a book in this freer day would be laughed at by even the newsboys.

DR. PRICE'S BAKING POWDER.

Supplying the Army, Navy and Indian Department.

Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The purchasing agents of the United States government have ordered nearly one hundred thousand pounds of Dr. Price's Baking Powder in the first five months of this year, 1892.

The government exercises great care in selecting its supplies of all kinds, rejecting everything that is not of the best, and the very fact that it has adopted Dr. Price's Baking Powder is proof that it has found it the best of all the baking powders. Dr. Price's is peculiarly adapted for export, as neither long sea voyages nor climatic changes affect it, this brand keeping fresh and sweet for years while other baking powders deteriorate rapidly.

It is guaranteed to the government to be a pure cream of tartar powder free from ammonia, alum, or other harmful substances, and it is also the only baking powder prepared by a physician of high standing.

Found at last a cure for dyspepsia K. D. C., guaranteed to cure. To be had from your druggist, or Beckwith Thompson & King, agents for B. C. *

KASLO CITY

KOOTENAY LAKE.

SINCE the opening of navigation many hundreds of people have poured into Kaslo City. The discoveries of last fall have proved as rich as expected, and many new ones, fully as important, have been located this spring. The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Company have built roads and trails into the important mines, and surveys have been completed for the railway. The contract for clearing the right-of-way for the latter will be let in a few days. Many substantial buildings have been erected so far this year, and a large number will be begun immediately, including a handsome hotel.

A large number of business and residential lots have been sold, and many have changed hands at a good profit. In a short time the Company will advance the price of all lots.

Now is the Time to Invest.

CARIBOO.

The returns in the Cariboo election are now complete, and they give Dr. Watt a majority of 12. This is a small majority, but it seems that the vote polled was also comparatively small. Both candidates were avowed supporters of the Government, and therefore in respect of their political beliefs the TIMES could find no reason to prefer one above the other. Dr. Watt's victory is nevertheless agreeable to us, since we know that his high character and independence of mind will make him a useful member of the Assembly. As the latter quality is exceedingly rare on the Government side of the House, we should be pleased to see more men of the stamp of Dr. Watt returned as Government supporters.

SOMEWHAT DISCORDANT.

The two organs do not play in harmony. There is a discord in the Bryno tune, played on Sunday morning. The News, the personal organ of the Czar, said:

"Mr. Bryno's papers and certificates should not have been destroyed as they were. They should have been fumigated and returned to him. But having done him a wrong it should be rectified. He does not come before the authorities as a pauper. * * * There should be no hesitation in doing him justice."

Considering the source, this is actually severe on the Czar, who is reponsible, with his brother, for the cremation of valuable papers and clothing, the property of Mr. Bryno. But if the Czar has nurtured a viper in the News, he has a faithful vassal in the Colonist, who writes:

"Piast Bryno is an unfortunate stranger, who spends part of his time in weaving dismal romances. The story he tells to one person does not correspond with the pitiful narrative he relates to gain the sympathy and help of another," ect.

The Czar will see that the Colonist, which he licked into line, is a more subservient henchman than the News, which he founded "to fill a long-felt want."

THE PREMIER'S ILL-HEALTH.

Premier Abbott is in very poor health, and is not likely to retain very long the office of Premier, the duties of which have recently been bearing heavily upon him. The breaking down of his nervous system seems to have been caused directly by too close attention to work. Such a breaking down is a serious matter with a man of Sir John Abbott's age, for it is not easy to repair at his time of life. A rest and a holiday trip to the Gulf of St. Lawrence may bring him recuperation, and we sincerely hope it will; but there will always remain the danger of a second collapse if he returns to the harassing duties of the Premiership. It is very doubtful whether he will return to them. In the event of his retirement the Conservative party in the Dominion will have a repetition of the trouble which occurred when Sir John Macdonald died. At that time the difficulty of selecting a successor to the late Premier was solved by accepting Sir John Abbott as a compromise, and it looks very much as though when he retires another compromise Premier will follow him. Sir John Thompson stands first in natural succession, but a good many in the party object to him on the score of religion, and besides, the Minister of Justice would prefer to give up politics and take a seat on the Supreme Court bench. Some of the Grit papers have been amusing themselves by nominating Mr. Haggart, but for some reason or other the Tories take this as an insult. Some of the Quebec contingent appear to favor Lieut.-Governor Angers; to him, however, Caron is implacably hostile. Apart from Sir John Thompson, who has his own peculiar qualifications for the post, there are very few men among the Conservatives who would give the promise of proving successful in the leadership.

The Montreal Gazette seeks to console itself with the reflection that the exodus from Quebec is nothing new, that even in the early days of the French regime colonists were in the habit of crossing the border to find new homes, and that the habit has never been altogether given up. But the authors of the National Policy led the country to expect that their beneficent nostrum would change all that. They never tired of affirming that when the people of Canada consented to tax themselves heavily enough they would put an end to all such things as hard times and exoduses. They seem to have been very far out in their reckoning. The N.P., in fact, has been as useless in the way of keeping Canada's population in Canada as were the edicts of the old French governors and governing councils, who sought to restrain their male colonists from wandering off to the woods to trade and live with the Indians.

While many of the English manufacturers are disposed to grumble at the high protection tendencies shown by the United States, and find a great deal of fault with the McKinley tariff, there are other English observers who feel that the United States will become a much more formidable competitor for the trade of the world when it throws away its narrow trade ideas. The London Spectator, one of the most philosophical of English papers, says in a recent issue: "We shall never be able to compete with free trade America, and in fifty years, or perhaps sooner, we shall be, when compared with our offspring, an inactive volcano of commerce." One would suppose that in view of such probabilities Englishmen would prefer to see the States keep up its tariff exclusiveness.

The Ainsworth News sarcastically suggests that the Government establish a prospectors' reservation, and that all the prospectors who have made two locations, and can, therefore, make no more, should be carefully confined on it and provided with monthly rations out of the Government funds. "It is terrible to think," says the News, "that we are in daily danger of fresh energy and fresh enterprise being shown, and yet the Government makes no sign. We would suggest the selection of a site on some mountain of barren granite and the careful surveillance of the prospectors, to prevent any mining news from reaching them. It would, of course, be the most energetic and and pushing prospectors whom it would be necessary to place on the reservation. But a saloon might be provided and a month or two would probably initiate them into the habits of the barroom loafers who do little to develop a country except talk. Thus would West Kootenay escape a pressing danger, and the Government sustain its reputation by a measure only equalled in sagacity and prudence by the Mineral Act of 1892."

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

It appears that the sign manual of the Provincial Government is about to be removed. For some time I have noticed the health officer's arrangements at the house from whence the unfortunate man McKay was taken to his death, and have scarcely admired the methods adopted to prevent the ingress or egress of air. The window that was broken during the disturbance, whilst one of God's creatures and Victoria's citizens lay gasping for breath has been in artistically repaired by a portion of a box. The house is now to undergo some repairs and cleansing, and so the "Broad Arrow" of the Davies' administration is to disappear. Doubtless, Dr. Wade will be glad to hear of the outward sign of his gracious rule being finally removed.

I hear there is trouble brewing at the Post-office. It appears that some officials, portions of whose salaries were filched from them, have rather openly talked of this grievance, and an inquiry has been instituted. I should not wonder if such were discharged. It is, of course, very wrong to quarrel with one's wages. We have been taught to be "contented with the station of life in which it has pleased God to call us;" and Post-office authorities are guilty of sheer blasphemy in grumbling at their evident destiny. Providence has ordained that they should get $40 per month, and that one month in the year some blundering Ottawa official should steal from them $7.30 of this enormous salary. Yet must they "eat, drink and be merry," and murmur not at their betters' arrangements. From my soul I loathe all such tyranny. N. Shakespeare, Esq., I do not charge you with this wretched piece of high-handed, arbitrary conduct; if I did, I would quote from a book you reverence and profess to obey: "Behold the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud crieth, and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of the Sabaoth." Yet I do ask you, N. Shakespeare, Esq., to throw the mantle of your protection over those whose shoulders are smarting with the injustice, and to give a manly sympathy to the laborers whom the Dominion Government has defrauded.

I see my old friend Joseph Phoenix is going to prosecute the corporation for violating their own by-law re thistles. This is most reasonable and public spirited. I can point to a number of streets where the most guilty offenders are the mayor and his colleagues in their official capacity. The large area added to the city doubtless makes it most difficult to visit all the streets and roads during the harvest time of the thistles. Still there are so many unemployed men just now that $2 per day for such work would be gladly hailed by not a few. Physician, heal thyself.

I noticed in the court of revision the other day that the large real estate holders were the principal appellants against their assessments. Probably they thought equity demanded their reduction, and that the assessor had overestimated values. Yet it seems reasonable that if assessments are reduced in one section upon appeal, those who did not appeal in the same section, acquiescing in the assessor's estimate, should also have their assessments reduced. Not to do so is to invite appeals more frequently, and to give endless trouble to future courts of revision. Further, the fact of so many not appealing is a pretty reasonable proof that the assessor's estimate is a correct one. Silent testimony is in such a matter fairly conclusive. I confess to little sympathy with the great bulk of the appeals. Some, doubtless, were both reasonable and fair. QUIZ.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE TURF.

THERE WILL BE GRAND SPORT.

The second day's racing at the Driving Park next month has three races on the card, as follows:

First race, trotting and pacing, free for all; three entries. Primero, Molly Cooper and Ha-Ha.

Primero has no record, but is known to be a good one. He is inclined to be a little flighty, but is in good hands, and no doubt will do good work. Cooper is well-known to Victorians. She is very speedy, and if she gets the right kind of a send-off will be a hard nut to crack. Ha-Ha has the name of being a very fast one, level headed and dead game. This should be a good contest and well worth seeing.

The second race is a half mile and repeat, running race for provincial raised horses and has four entries:—Mayflower, Shamrock, Leap Year and Domino. This should produce a very fine race. They have all been highly tried. On public form Mayflower should win; however, they will all know that they have been to a horse race.

The third race is a mile dash, running, open to all, with four entries:—Hooker, Rifton, Marcelle and Murphy. This will set the talent guessing. Hooker is, without a doubt, a rare good one to go, but is so very cranky that the public will be chary about backing him. Rifton is known to be rapid and a stayer, but his leg gives him trouble when he is hard pushed. Old reliable Jim Murphy is perhaps not as speedy in places, but he is such a true, willing runner that he will find a host of backers. Marcelle is an unknown quantity. In her work she moves like a rare good one. She will make them cut loose at their best to beat her; she is a grand mover and has shown some very fast trials in her work. The weather continues fine and lovers of horse flesh miss a treat in the mornings when the horses are out for work.

The B. C. Jockey Club will hold their fall meeting at Vancouver on the 16th and 17th of September. A few Victoria horses may go over to take a share of the $2000 offered in prizes.

GYMNKHANA.

FUN FOR EVERYBODY.

There was a very fair attendance at the Driving Park on Saturday to witness the Gymnkhana races. In the half mile trotting race there were ten starters. It was won by Master F. Ward with Mr. Macpherson second.

The half mile side saddle race was won by Mr. Macpherson, who was nominated by Miss Dunsmuir. The prize went to the lady. Macpherson also won the quarter mile pony race, the half mile tandem, the half mile hurdle race and the bareback hurdle race. The Balaclava Melee was won by the Warspite team. C. W. Ward won the cigar and umbrella race and Sir Robert Arbuthnot won the polo pony race with ball and stick.

LACRSSE.

WANT THE DATE CHANGED.

The secretary of the Vancouver club has written to secure, if possible, the consent of the home team to change the date of the championship match scheduled for September 17th, at Vancouver, to September 10th, owing to the Jockey Club meet at Vancouver on the date first mentioned. This matter will be considered early this week.

BRIGHT PARTICULAR STARS.

The magnificent play of Belfry in the defence field and McNaughton in home were special features of the match. McLeod's play in two matches (with the intermediates and seniors) was also well worthy of mention. For the Westminsters Lewis in centre did the most brilliant work.

TENNIS.

SOME VERY BRILLIANT PLAY.

On Saturday afternoon a keenly contested and exciting game was played at the Victoria Tennis club's grounds between Longe brothers, who won the championship in the open doubles contest of the tournament last week, and Foulkes and Cuppage, who won the championship of the Northwest at the Tacoma tournament. Foulkes and Cuppage won the first set, and held the advantage in the beginning of the second and third, but the Longes did some brilliant work in time to win both these and the match.

The finals in the tournament handicap singles, will be played to-morrow.

PEDESTRIANISM.

LEAVING THE AMATEUR RANKS.

Henry McDowell, who captured the 100 yards medal last year, and J. McDowell, who sports several medals for races of the same distance won in Cape Breton island, have arranged to run a 100 yards' race at Beacon Hill on the evening of September 10th. There is $100 a side on the result.

THE GUN.

MINOR WINS AGAIN.

The Union Gun club shot for the fourth time on Saturday for the Hamilton Powder company's medal. Minor won it with 21 to H. N. Short's 20. In the second twenty-five Maclure and Minor tied with 21 points each.

KINDLY FEELINGS SHOWN.

Rev. P. Jenns Presented with an Address and Purse—A Well Deserved Holiday.

At the close of his sermon at St. John's church last evening Rev. P. Jenns said that he thought that his intended visit to Europe would benefit not only himself but also the congregation. He had been among them for about twenty-four years with very few holidays, and he was of opinion that by mingling with the clergy in England he would be enabled to gather new facts to impart to his flock.

After service the members of the congregation gathered around Rev. Mr. Jenns to bid him good-bye, and wish him a pleasant trip. Many of those who were unable to attend expressed their kindly feelings in short notes.

Before departing Mr. Henry Saunders and Mr. A. L. Belyea, on behalf of the congregation, presented Rev. Mr. Jenns with a purse containing $300 and the following address handsomely engrossed:—

To the Reverend Percival Jenns, Rector of St. John's Church, Victoria, B.C.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—On behalf of ourselves and the congregation of St. John's church we beg, on the eve of your departure on a visit to England, the land of your birth, to express our warm attachment to your person and our appreciation of the kindness, zeal and care with which you have for nearly a quarter of a century discharged the duties of rector of this church.

Of the many who welcomed you to this church in 1868, there are comparatively a few now to bid you good-bye and Godspeed, but amid all the changes you have, by earnest teaching, kindly sympathy alike with the sorrowing and the glad, and by firm adherence to a high standard of action and thought, won and held the admiration, respect and confidence of, as well those who have come and gone, as those who to-day enjoy the fruits of your teaching and example, your counsel and friendship.

That your visit to Old England will be one of great pleasure to you we cannot doubt, and we trust that having once again met the friends, and looked upon the scenes of your earlier life, you will return to your Master's work among us, with renewed energy of body and mind.

Wishing you a safe and pleasant voyage and assuring you that a hearty welcome awaits you on your return,

We are, Reverend Sir, your faithful friends and parishioners.

Wardens of St. John's { A. L. BELYEA, A. C. FLUMMERFELT, D. R. KER, H. SAUNDERS.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 28th, 1892.

Rev. Mr. Jenns leaves for England either to-morrow or Tuesday morning. He will probably be accompanied by Dr. Powell's son, who goes to Cambridge University.

"Spare the Rod and Spoil," Etc.

William Schultz and Fred Galout, aged 9 and 10 respectively, were brought before Magistrate Macrae this morning, charged by B. W. Pearse with malicious damage to property. It was shown that the boys, a week ago, started a fire which almost resulted in the destruction of Mr. Pearse's residence and outbuildings at Spring Ridge. The boys dropped matches after lighting cigarettes, igniting the grass and starting a fire which took the fire brigade and numbers of people living in the vicinity five hours to extinguish. Mr. Pearse said that he did not wish to have the boys punished, but hoped that by bringing them before the court that it would have a deterrent effect upon them and others. The court gave the boys a severe lecturing, expressing regret that he could not order them to be strapped, and promised severe punishment if any offenders of the same kind were brought before him.

Looks Like Business.

The Wilson block on Yates street, has been completed, and within a very short time will be all occupied. W. K. Tulloch has taken the three upper stories and two of the stores. The former he has completely furnished in elegant style and in the latter he will start a bar and a restaurant, all of which, as the Wilson Hotel, will, he hopes win patronage. The remaining store has been taken by P. C. Nicolle of Kobe, whs will start a large Japanese store. His fixtures are now in and his stock is coming.

The Captain a Champion.

Pilot Clements and first assistant Engineer Wolfred, of the City of Kingston, the latter accompanied by his family, returned last evening from a weeks' visit to Harrison Hot Springs. They had a most enjoyable time, hunting, fishing, driving and racing. Capt. Clements, although a novice, won distinction in the lawn tennis court, where he, with one of the lady visitors at the hotel carried off the championship.

Cowichan Lake.

Mr. A. Lewis returned last evening from Cowichan Lake, where he has been spending several days. The loggers have a lot of logs ready to be sent down the river, and are still hard at work getting out more. A. C. Fraser's hotel is accommodating a number of guests, all of whom are having a very pleasant time.

She is Coming Down.

Notice of the arrival of the now famous steamer Coquitlam from Sitka within the next few days would not prove surprising. Making due allowance for the arrival of her bonds, she should now be well on her way home. She will probably go to Vancouver direct.

Rabbi Philo's Case.

The Jewish congregation Emmanu-El will meet to-night for the further consideration of matters pertaining to the differences existing between them and the Rabbi Philo, their pastor. The meeting will be largely attended and will no doubt be interesting.

The Fire Record.

The fire department, or part of it, was called out twice yesterday to put out grass fires, one at Beacon Hill and one near Dr. Davie's house. Neither did any damage. A small fire on the Kingston's dock last evening was put put out by one of the Kingston's crew.

Preparing for the Dance

The new K. of P. Hall is being decorated and furnished for the opening dance which takes place on Wednesday evening. A good time is promised those who attend.

Hospital Meeting.

The board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital meet this evening for the purpose of considering the proposals made by Mr. E. C. Baker for managing the hospital with committees.

Howard-Pike.

Mr. Harry Howard, of the TIMES composing staff, was married on Saturday evening to Miss Lizzie Pike. The marriage was a quiet one, only a few very intimate friends being present.

Meet for Drill.

The Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, meet for drill at the Market Hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Sir Knights mean to get in good form for the drill competition at Westminster.

Eye Sores.

There are two or three wooden buildings on Johnson street between Broad and Douglas that extend over the street lines. They spoil the appearance of the street and the adjoining buildings.

Flour for China.

The Victoria Flour Mills Company are to-day getting ready for shipment to China 5000 sacks of flour. It is to be sent over to Vancouver to-morrow morning and will be taken across by the Empress of Japan, which sails early on Wednesday morning.

Had no Certificate.

After a hearing before U.S. commissioner Keifer at Seattle, Chin Quong Look, the Chinese merchant taken to the Sound from Vancouver last week, by Attorney Frank Hartley Jones, was ordered to be deported. It appears that while he was a merchant there, he went out of the country without first obtaining a certificate.

Renewing Old Friendships.

Rev. M. L. Rugg, pastor of the North Seattle Baptist church, formerly of this city, who has been spending a few days with his old flock, will leave for home to-night. He filled the pulpit of the Emmanuel church, Spring Ridge, in the morning, yesterday, and that of Calvary church in the evening. He preached two very interesting sermons.

The Water Highway.

Several boats from the fleet were rowed and sailed round from Esquimalt yesterday, carrying each a full complement of jolly tars. The big launches of the war vessel looks well under sail, although they generally carry a very small and insignificant spread, considering the size of the boats. The intense heat yesterday afternoon made the work of tugging the long, heavy sweeps of the man-o'-war's boats more like penal servitude than sport.

B.Y.L.C.

It is with pleasure that we notice among the students who have just passed their matriculation examinations the name of Miss Grace McIntosh, of Vancouver, B.C., who graduated in the Ladies' College last June. Miss McIntosh gained the mayor's gold medal for general proficiency, the silver medal for Biblical history, the mathematical prize, the Alumnæ prize for the best essay, a prize for modern languages, and now adds the governor-general's medal to her list of honors. We congratulate the college on having such students.—Brantford, Ont., Expositor.

Before the Cadi.

W. H. Routledge, real estate agent, was arraigned before Police Magistrate Macrae this morning, charged with fraudulently obtaining three title deeds from Thomas Jordan Ridehalgh. On the application of Mr. Walls, for the defendant, and with the consent of the prosecution, the hearing of the case was adjourned for a week, and Routledge was allowed out on his own recognizances in the sum of $500. A common drunk paid the usual penalty, and Geo. Forkner and James Sampig, convicted of fighting on Yates street, each paid a fine of $10.

Prominent Democrats.

L. D. Ross, of Seattle, accompanied by his wife, spent yesterday in the city. Mr. Ross is a prominent Democratic politician of Washington, and was at the last municipal election in Seattle a member of the famous "Kid" campaign committee. The latter was composed of five young men, none over 22 years of age, and they conducted and won a pretty fight. Mr. Ross was at the national convention at Chicago, and at the state convention last week in Olympia. He came up here for a rest. He says Cleveland will be elected. Mrs. Ross was Miss Grace Martin, well known in literary and journalistic circles on the other side as a graceful writer on women's topics.

The Straits Survey Party.

The U. S. survey steamer Gedney arrived in last evening from Dungeness and dropped anchor in James Bay. She has been pursuing her work on the other side of the straits. The ship's launch, with J. J. Gilbert who has charge of the scientific work, and a party aboard, left this morning for Beecher Bay to take some observations. The Gedney joined the party this afternoon and the two go back to Dungeness to-night. The next station for work is Discovery Island and the steamer will be there about a week. While at work there the men will make their headquarters in Victoria. Miss Magann and Miss Reede, of Portland, and Mr. R. H. Benedict, have been guests on the ship for a week past. Mrs. Wm. Marvin went as far as Dungeness last week but has returned.

A Deeply Regretted Death.

William Harvey, well known to all old time Victorians, died to-day at Stonyhurst, of cancer. The deceased, who was familiarly known as "Uncle William," leaves one brother who is with Turner, Beeton & Co. Mr. Harvey was 53 years of age and was born at Bury St. Edmunds, England. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the house and 10:30 from Christ Church Cathedral, of which deceased was a prominent member.

Solemnly Dedicated.

The new James Bay Methodist church was dedicated yesterday and formally handed over to the seven chosen trustees for the denomination. Revs. E. Robson, Wilkinson, pastor, and Hopkins, returned missionary from Bella Bella, took part in the proceedings. Crowded congregations gathered at both morning and afternoon services. Collections were taken up on each occasion, which was liberally responded to by the worshippers. The congregation started with a debt of $4600, but this with cash in hand, collections yesterday and promises made, will be probably reduced to $2500. The whole of the services were heartily enjoyed. A fuller account had been prepared, but was crowded out through lack of space.

Warning to Picnic Parties.

TO THE EDITOR:—Is there any game protection in the Province of British Columbia? I ask this apparently strange question on account of the decidedly strange conduct of parties of men, in the employ of the Government, too, I have strong reason to believe. These men have been shooting grouse right and left around here for the past two weeks, and even the poor chicks scarcely able to fly have been butchered by the brutes in sheer wantonness. I would recommend picnic parties coming out this way to leave their dogs at home, because they disturb and worry the sheep on pasture. Two such parties were out last week on the estate of Robert Weir. Gordon Bush, and their dogs caused much annoyance. Some of those dogs may not return to Victoria if the practice is not stopped. On Saturday the 20th instant a party of ladies and gentlemen in a steam launch and torpedo boat No. 40, visited this place and started a fire in the woods. They evidently thought they were on public ground, but it happened to be on Mr. John Weir's property at Gordon Bush. I would advise such parties in future to be careful where they kindle fires in that neighborhood or they will most likely hear more about it. Yours truly,

D. M. GORDON.

In the Silvery Moonlight.

Next Monday evening the members of the Centennial Methodist church will give a moonlight excursion. The steamer Joan, which is a favorite, has been chartered, and will no doubt be crowded. A band also has been engaged. Race Rocks, Esquimalt and other points of interest will be visited.

Pharmaceutical Exams.

The semi-annual examination for the licentiate of pharmacy certificate of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association will take place on October the 5th and 6th. Candidates must notify the registrar of their intention to present themselves before Sept. 21st. Candidates for registration on diplomas must deposit their diplomas before the 7th of September.

Recalling Old Memories.

Just 40 years ago to-day Bishop Lootens and Bishop Demers, the latter long since dead, arrived in Victoria. Bishop Lootens, now too old for active work, although strong, lives a retired life. He was at dinner with the clergy at the Bishop's palace to-day and told many stories of interest about the old days. When he came here he was simply a priest with Bishop Demers.

They Are Anxious.

The sealing men are growing a little anxious about the report of Claim Commissioners Gleadowe and Rose, who were here last spring. They should have reached home two months ago, yet not a word has been heard from them. True, the reducing of losses disgusted the sealers, but they figure that whatever they are to get should have been agreed upon and paid before this.

Interesting and Instructive.

The union service of the temperance societies of the city at the Centennial Methodist church last night was very well attended, despite the large number that went to the new James Bay Methodist church. The sermon preached by Rev. J. H. White was something out of the ordinary, and proved interesting and instructive to his hearers. He spoke largely on the morality of cities of the past and present, and drew interesting comparisons with Victoria. He also told of the benefits of good moral work.

Stuffing the Constable.

About half past ten last night Mr. Smith of the Steitz restaurant informed Officer Smith that there was a drunk on Langley street ready to be gathered in. The constable went to where he was directed and after asking the object lying on the sidewalk to get up and come along, accompanying the same with the persuasive pull peculiar to the force, he endeavored to raise the fallen. The arm gave way at the shoulder the coat and trousers almost separated and the constable saw he had been pulling at a stuffed suit. Some of the employees in the Electric Lights Works fixed up the dummy. Constable Redgrave also arrested the dummy, but tumbled when he felt the body with his foot.

Protect the Pheasants.

There is a good deal of evidence that the game act is being violated, so far, at least, as the killing of pheasants is concerned. Under the law only cock pheasants can be shot after the 30th day of September, while the destruction of hen pheasants is prohibited throughout the whole year, as a matter of fact both are being destroyed at the present, and a breach of the law is committed inasmuch as the poachers sell the game in the city. Pheasants cannot be lawfully killed by anyone for the purpose of deriving revenue or profit. It is also unlawful to buy any pheasant or doe of any age: so that the buyer is equally guilty with the seller. After the 1st of September grouse, partridge, quail and wild ducks of all kinds may be killed. The deer season does not come in till the 14th of September. It was in the interests of sport that the law was made, and true sportsmen are all anxious that the proper authorities should take some trouble to see that it is properly enforced.

How to Keep Lemons.

THE KOOTENAY COUNTRY.

Good Ore Coming Forth—Sales of Claims—General Progress.

From the Nelson Miner.]

Mr. Holdrich's report on R. H. Kemp's mineral waters has been so satisfactory that the springs nave been for the present withdrawn from the market. There isn't enough whiskey in the country to keep them going.

Isaac Holden and Tom Collins have bought the Bellevue from W. T. Atherton.

J. E. Boss has two men at work sinking a shaft on the Iroquois.

Three hundred dollars worth of assessment work is to be done on the Hannah.

Jim Shields has sold his share of the Lucky Jim for $15,000. Of this wad he gave $100 to the Church of England mission room fund.

Mr. Neal, who has put in most of the concentrators in the Cœur d'Alenes, just returned to Spokane from the Bonanza mine near Colville, and is well pleased with the mine, says the Bonanza has the greatest surface showing he ever saw in his life; they have struck lately two more ore bodies, one of them 8 feet wide clear and a permanent vein which they are shipping direct to smelters.

We understand that the Houston block has been sold. Exact particulars are not to hand; the price mentioned, however, is $5000 cash. Another big deal of Josephine street real estate is on the cards.

S. M. Wharton went up to New Denver yesterday with a crew of men to put up a sawmill. Its capacity will be 15,000 feet a day.

The Nelson Electric Light company is making progress in the direction of soon having the plant in working order. The trouble between the company and the owners of the land over which the flume is being carried has been smoothed over, and work can now be carried on without fear of interruption.

It is claimed that $2000 worth of ore a day is being taken from the Neosho. One bucket fall was sent up the shaft full of wire silver and valued at $700.

Jim Wardner is importing 60 mules to pack his ore over the Nakusp trail, so, at least, it is said. In spite of all adverse reports the Freddie Lee is one of the most promising prospects in the Slocan country.

Placer digging at Hall Creek is causing quite a little local excitement. French Joe and his partner took out over $40 in one day, and between 20 and 30 men are at work making from $5 to $10 each a day.

Rumors are afloat of a very rich strike on Toad mountain. Nothing definite about it will be made public by the owners for a week or two, but there is no doubt that a find of some importance has been made.

The Great Northern quotes a through rate to Great Falls from Kaslo of $8 a ton for ore. If the Kaslo wagon road were built it is calculated that on ore which averages 50 per cent. lead the miner could have a profit of all the silver in his ore less $10 or $15.

The shipment of ore from the Skyline, which was sent out with a view to determining the best method of treating the ore, was delayed for six weeks at Bonner's Ferry. This will cause so long a delay in getting the reports on it that it is questionable it a mill can now be put up this autumn before the snow flies.

Returns from the Helena sampling works show that the 600 pounds of ore shipped there by James F. Wardner from the Freddie Lee mine went 255 ounces in silver and 78 per cent. lead. This was a careful selection of all the ores in the ledge, and was judged by those in charge to be a fair average of the product of the mine.

Colonel Russel, an ex-sheriff from New Mexico, and miner of long experience, has been in Slocan all summer. He was not looking for galena and he did not find it; but he found native silver instead. The lowest assay he has had from the lead on the claim, Silver Glance, gives 1600 ounces to the ton, the highest 2990 ounces. The colonel is on the lookout for ore sacks and means to ship a few tons this fall. But ore sacks are hard to get. A large order was shipped from the lake to the Freddie Lee. It is a good sign for the country when the market for ore sacks is stiff.

Exploration this fall seems to be working easterly and northerly. Prospectors are pushing their way in the direction of the boundary line between East and West Kootenay from Fry Creek and from the creeks that fall into Crawford's Bay. The country is practically unknown as yet, but from present indications it will not be long before rich discoveries are made in this direction.

But for the general depression and consequent lowness of the price of silver the Cœur d'Alene troubles would never have broken out. And just when they did an English syndicate had an agent in Helena prepared to complete a deal with A. M. Esler for the Frisco mine. The consideration was over a million and that money would all have been invested in West Kootenay, in providing, among other things, a mill for the Dandy. But the troubles that occurred scared the foreign capital and the Dandy has to wait for more favorable times.

The Lucky Jim had pinched out; the Blue Bird had pinched out; the Washington was pinching out and the Noble five group was looking bad a week ago. Now they are all right again. Rumors such as those are so numerous and so baseless that it is wonderful how anyone can be found to take them seriously. Prospects are like Derby favorites or crowned heads on whose welfare the fate of communities depends. People delight in circulating reports about them which cannot possibly be true and have no origin save in the scared imagination of their fabricators.

KASLO NOTES.

G. O. Buchanan's sawmill is now running full time.

On the 18th instant the survey for the Kaslo wagon road started under the direction of Engineer Fielding.

Thompson & Whittier have struck the lead on their extension of the Blue Bird claim.

On Wednesday evening 900 pounds of ore were packed down from the Whitewater mine to Kaslo. This is the first consignment of a carload which is to be shipped as soon as possible to Montana. The mine belongs to C. Eaton, and the ore is expected to average away up in the hundreds.

Mr. Watt, of Spokane Falls, has secured an option on the Wellington mine for 20 days. Price to be $20,000.

The tunnel on the Washington is in 40 feet. The face of the tunnel shows three feet of solid galena and looks, to quote the words of one of the owners, "like a jeweler's shop." Work will be begun at once on a working tunnel about 200 feet below the present one. There were between 160 and 180 tons of ore taken out of the first tunnel.

On the evening of the 11th instant a meeting of the citizens was held in Coy's building to discuss the best means of getting a school started in the town. Rev. T. Martin presided. It appeared that there were 17 children in Kaslo between the ages of six and 16, two more than a sufficient number to entitle the district to a Government school.

C. A. Kilbourne, of Seattle, has taken over the management of the Lucky Jim mine and will put as many men as possible to work on it at once. Last week some discouraging rumors were afloat about this property, owing to there being little or no ore in the tunnel. On the afternoon of the 4th, however, a fine body of ore was struck, by actual measurement 4 feet 11 inches wide, giving very good assays.

Messrs. Jowett & Chadbourne have just consummated a deal for the purchase of several claims in the Kaslo-Slocan country, consisting of the Great Western, Iron Hand and several others owned by McGovern & Franklin of Ainsworth. The consideration is $15,000. They have three months to develop the property and will put in a force of men at once to work at different points. The properties are bonded for one year.

THE LARDEAU REGION.

Glowing Description of Its Mineral Resources and Its Scenery.

From the Kamloops Sentinel.

The latest discovery on the Lardeau is a big "contact" galena-silver lode found by Mr. C. F. Blackburn near the head of the North Fork. This great lode is known as the Sunshine, and shows a solid outcrop of heavy mineral continuous for a distance of nearly two miles. There is no better defined vein in the world. One wall is a finn-grained, green colored chloritic slate and the other a metamorphic limestone or marble. The ore between the walls is from 12 inches to 12 feet in width, and is continuous right along for several thousand feet, consisting largely of galena very rich in gold and silver. The lode stands nearly vertical and strikes northwest and southeast.

The property is finely situated for tunnel development, being near the summit of the range between the Lardeau and Duncan Rivers. Good water power from the glaciers are always available.

It is believed this is the "mother" lode of the country, situated as it is near the summit of the range, in the centre of the upheaval, and along a most regular formation.

The lode is one of the most extensive in the Kootenay country, as the formation containing the lode has been traced by him for a distance of fifty miles, and werever the "contact" was examined good ore was found.

At some points the lode outcrops on the Duncan river slope, but most of it is on the Fish Creek and Lardeau side. It passes from the Lardeau to Fish Creek, but how far it goes north has not yet been determined. It is known to go south beyond the head of Hailey Creek, and probably as far as the Upper Kootenay Lake.

On the east side of the head of the Upper Lardeau and at the head of Hailey Creek this limestone belt stands up in mountain masses, and the numerous rugged peaks loom up as sentinels overlooking a mountain region of magnificent grandeur. On all sides are snow-capped, glacier-crowned peaks as far as the eye can reach. Snow fields and solid rock, mirror-like lakes and beautiful torrents, with cascades and thundering falls, all go to make the view one of true sublimity.

Notwithstanding the ruggedness of the country it would be an easy matter to construct a railway through it by way of the Lardeau pass. The writer can verify the claim made by the Kamloops Sentinel in an editorial last week that the great mineral fields of this section would justify the construction of such a road at once. The mines already found can furnish over a thousand tons of galena-carbonate ore daily. In fact, three lodes in the Lardeau country can do this very thing at the present time.

There are in this region some of the largest galena ledges ever discovered on the American continent. The amount of gold, silver, copper and lead that might be extracted from this portion of Kootenay district is beyond computation. If it is a fact that Canadian citizens do not care to handle this mineral I am sure the American miners will gladly take the job off their hands, and roll the wealth across the boundary line. Such a rich country cannot long remain dormant when known to enterprising men.

Public Appreciation of Bona Fide Bargains.

The great mammoth cheap sale at the Sehl, Hastie, Erskine Co., continues to attract eager buyers, who can readily appreciate a good thing when they see it, the furniture at "less than auction prices" is sure to soon find a place in the homes of our best citizens, while the carpets, curtains, glassware, lamps, baby carriages, etc., are pronounced to be the cheapest yet offered in Victoria. These bargains can only last for a limited time, and those thinking of purchasing are recommended to call in and inspect. To buy now is to save money.

MOTHERS SAY IT IS THE BEST!

The mothers of Canada who have used Lactated Food, emphatically declare that it is far ahead of all other prepared foods for infants.

The manufacturers of Lactated Food are continually receiving the most flattering testimonials from mothers in every city and town of the Dominion; all praise Lactated Food, and give it first place after having tried all other makes.

Every physician in Canada who has had the chance of trying Lactated Food, strongly recommends it. The most weighty opinions, however, come from the thousands of mothers who daily use it. They have seen its good effects and are delighted beyond measure.

GREAT LACROSSE.

The Champions of the Blue and White Clothe Themselves in Robes of Glory.

Undoubtedly the Best Game of Lacrosse Ever Witnessed in This Province.

The Victoria senior lacrosse team defeated the New Westminster team in the championship series match on Saturday afternoon, 27th inst. by 4 goals to 3.

The Victoria lacrosse team were not satisfied until they secured a second victory on Saturday. The success of the intermediates against what was generally considered odds, united to the fact that they(the seniors)had only a cipher as a record for their season's hard work, made them strive for victory with a determination that resulted in their attaining that very desirable object, but only after the hardest battle of the season. The home team was weakened by the loss of Van Allen, who refused to play at the last minute; and Ditchburn, just out of a sick bed, bravely took his place. Then Belfry was suffering from a stiff neck, but he did not let this interfere with his playing. On the other hand the Westminsters had the strongest team they could muster, and came determined to win, as success on Saturday would give them a chance for the championship this season.

The game was characterized by very heavy checking throughout, and at times it seemed as if there was unnecessary severity in this direction. Then the spectators allowed their emotions to overcome their discretion, and indulged in jeering the visitors and yelling insulting remarks at them.

FIRST GAME.

After some delay, Fred. Grant was selected as referee, and J. Murphy and C. Ault umpires. Blight drew the ball and passed to Ditchburn, who threw it well on the Westminster flags. Eckardt secured it and tobied to Tite, who shot on the goal, but failed to score. McKenzie tipped the rubber to Ketchum who sent it down to the Victoria's flags. After a scuffle Belfry made one of his lightning moves and drove the ball far up the field. Allen returned it and Cambridge captured it, tried a shot on the flags, but was closely checked by Cullen and so missed his mark. In a scrimmage that ensued, Jim McLeod was laid low, but soon resumed play. The sphere found its way up to the Westminster flags, when White secured it, sent it down to Allen, who drove it between the flags and secured the first game for the Westminsters. Time, 17½ minutes.

SECOND GAME.

In the second game play of the hard and fast description was resumed. Blight took the ball up field, but Mackenzie secured it and sent it down to Brouse, who tipped it to Cambridge who again made an ineffectual attempt to score. The ball traveled up and down the field, and finally Macnaughton got it on his stick and in his own peculiar way carried it around in front of the Westminster flags till he saw an opening, and with lightning rapidity and unerring aim, shot the ball through, scoring for Victoria. Time 7 minutes.

THIRD GAME.

This joust was short but merry. Lewis got it at the start, but lost to Blight. White returned but Tite captured it, paced behind Westminster's goal dropped the ball over and Blight swiped it through, making the second goal for Victoria in the record breaking time of two minutes.

FOURTH GAME.

The Westminsters were thoroughly wound up for business this time and although the game seemed an hour in duration, it was in reality only four minutes' play. The work was very fast and somewhat furious. Every man on the field had a hand in the work; some of them both hands and feet. For the Westminister's Lewis worked like a Trojan at centre, but the Victoria defence could not be broken. Finally, after a scrimmage, Frost got the rubber and tried to score, when Mackenzie hit him a terrible blow across the arm. Mackenzie was ruled off, and as Frost had to retire Steuart was also sent off with him. McNaughton got the ball soon after the face off and though heavily checked again scored.

FIFTH GAME.

The Westminsters seemed to have the advantage at the start of the game. Ditchburn was too weak to handle his stick. Dalgleish, Peele and Lewis had the ball often, but the Victoria defence were solid. Eckardt tried to score but failed, and shortly afterwards he and White dropped their sticks and squared up for a fight and were both ruled off. Lewis finally passed the ball to Peele, who shot through goal. Time, 14 minutes.

SIXTH GAME.

Ketchum and Campbell played a great defence for the visitors, while Belfry and McLeod returned well. Tudhope shot on the Westminster flags, but was well stopped by Allen, who sent it down field. Lewis and Peele again did the needful, and Westminster won a third goal. Time, 5 minutes. In this game Lewis struck Blight, knocking him over. Frost quickly leaped the fence and dealt Lewis a blow in the neck. The latter did not retaliate and Frost was moved off the field.

SEVENTH AND LAST.

The Westminsters made a determined onslaught on the Victoria goal. But Ditchburn was between the flags and Blain went out to look after Lewis, who was too fleet footed for his hitherto weak opponent. Cullen in this game played a magnificent defence, and of course was assisted by the others, and Blight did better work than before. Blain proved too swift for Lewis, and the latter's good home work was successfully checked. Ditchburn made some good stops. Blain finally carried the sphere up to McNaughton, who again scored for Victoria. Time 7½ minutes. This settled the match.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

One of the Quaker City's Noted Men on a Visit to Victoria.

Rev. John Beckley, pastor of the Beth Eden Baptist church, Philadelphia, one of the leading churches in the "City of brotherly love," spent yesterday in the city, and was a guest at the Victoria. He is greatly interested in Christian Endeavor Society work, being trustee with John Wannamaker for Pennsylvania, of the United Society, and was, at the recent New York convention, chairman of the programme committee. He gave a TIMES man a very pleasant greeting last evening.

Said he: "I am on my vacation, and as I have always had a great interest in Canada, decided to spend it here. Last year I visited the Maritime Provinces, and this year I came to the Pacific coast. I am delighted at what I have seen, and delighted at the comforts on the C.P.R. I was not once fatigued during the ride and never once sat down to a poor meal. I had the pleasure of meeting an old acquaintance in the person of Sir Edwin Arnold, at Vancouver. Last time we met I introduced him to an assemblage of 3000 people in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia. He tells me that he has disposed of his play "Adzuma, or the Japanese Wife" to Henry Irving the great English actor. I asked Sir Edwin if he had not done wrong in representing the Japanese people as dreamy and poetic, instead of practical. He candidly admitted that he had. He seems to have lost some of the good opinion that the Japanese had of him. He specially interested me with his story of restoring another Buddhist temple. He is indeed a wonderful man. I intend to visit the Sound cities before going home, and will meet some Christian Endeavor people. I had hoped to visit some of the societies here, but the opportunity did not offer itself."

Mr. Beckley took the Kingston last evening for Seattle. He had intended to go to Alaska, but was two days late for the Queen.

CHOLERA'S HEADQUARTERS.

Short Description of the Great Hanseatic Town Now in Trouble.

The city of Hamburg, to which the attention of the whole world has been drawn within the past week as the centre of the cholera epidemic, is one of the most important cities in Europe. Hamburg is the chief of the three Hanse towns—Hamburg, Bremen and Lubeck. It is situated in the north of Germany, 70 miles from the North Sea or German Ocean, on the River Elbe, and is known as the great emporium of Germany and the greatest general business centre on the continent of Europe. Hamburg possesses an area of 160 square miles, and the population in 1890 was 622,530. The commerce between Hamburg and the United Kingdom, and within the last ten years with America and the Orient, is enormous. The imports from the United Kingdom alone in 1890 (excluding bullion) amounted to £20,134,695. In October, 1888, the Hanse towns joined the German customs union, retaining, however, their local self government like the other states of the Empire. The burgomaster last year was Dr. Versmann. It was stated a short time ago that the population of Hamburg now (1892) exceeded 800,000. It is one of the cleanest cities of Germany, is well-lighted, and has a first-class sewerage system. The streets are wide and of noble appearance, and adorned with many remarkably handsome buildings. The harbor is said to resemble that of London or Liverpool, and is generally crowded with shipping from every port in the world. The health of the city has been heretofore very good, but it has been fairly well established that the present visitation of cholera was brought to the city from Russia by the Jews and other refugees, who were driven from that country during the late troubles. These people were in transit to the United States.

Altona, which has been afflicted with cholera, is further up the Elbe, and is chiefly noted for its magnificent cathedral, which has one of the tallest spires in the world, and its grand organ, said to be one of the oldest and sweetest in tone in existence.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents. *

A PLEA FOR OUR CHILDREN.

TO THE EDITOR:—As it is an unpardonable sin to endeavor through the public press to get justice from the Education Department for the scholars without first appealing to the nabobs, I may state that an appeal has been made to them to select a uniform series of text books in English grammar, but in vain. I therefore ask you to use your influence to cause them to do so. At present a scholar spends a long time learning grammar according to the elementary series. Then when he is promoted he not only has to learn something very different, but to unlearn a great deal of what he had learned, and thus precious time is wasted. If all parents only knew how much of the valuable time of their children was thus wasted, they would make it hot for the Council of Public Instruction. The Legislature has wisely provided that a uniform series of text books shall be selected in order to prevent, this waste of time; but through the bungling or incompetence of the Education Department the evil exists.

FROM THE INTERIOR.

Matters of Interest Culled From Inland Exchanges—Satisfactory Mining Reports.

KAMLOOPS.

Mr. John T. Edwards cut his left hand badly with a scythe while working on his Sullivan ranche. He was brought to the hospital, a distance of 17 miles. G. C. Fox severely cut his foot with an axe on his ranche up the North Thompson river. He was very weak from loss of blood before he could get surgical assistance.

Mr. A. G. Pemberton, sheriff of Yale, has been on the sick list for a week, which he has spent in the hospital. He is now convalescent, and will return to his ranch without delay.

Mr. A. McBryan, of Shuswap, reports a large crop of grain, fruit and vegetables at that place. His own crop of potatoes will amount to 250 tons—or say 8000 bushels.

Louis V. Bennett made an effort to start a pack train for Tete Jeune Cache on Thursday, but they stampeded and he had to corral them again and repair damages. One piece of machinery used in cutting mica was broken. He will leave as soon as possible next week, having ten horses with packs, and several others for relief and riding. He will pack in 2000 to 3000 pounds of mica on the return trip.

Gaoler Sinclair has had two offenders added to his family this week. Wm. Shiels of Seattle, was brought in by Constable Norris, of Vernon, committed for four months for supplying an intoxicant to an Indian of the Okanagan reserve, named Michel, who was shot and killed by Little Johnnie, as described last week. John McDonald was also brought in by Constable Pringle of Enderby, committed by S. Gibbs, J.P., for three months for supplying liquor to an Okanagan Indian named John Nicolah. It is likely that these white men—whiskey vendors—will get a knowledge of and respect for the law by practical demonstration during their imprisonment.

GOLDEN.

Mr. Harry Estell came into town from the Fort Steele district on Monday last. He brought with him many good specimens from off the newly discovered ledge and after having them assayed was more satisfied than ever as to the future of that locality for a miner's point of view.

We are given to understand that crushing has commenced on the Bobby Burns and that gold is very plentiful. rumor also reaches us that a new and very promising ledge has been opened up adjoining the Askwith claims and owned by Mr. J. E. Askwith of Ottawa.

The enormous frame building which is in course of erection by the Townsite Co., will in a very short time be completed. When this has been accomplished there will not be a finer building (frame) in the mountains and we much doubt if its equal can be found.

Mr. Fred Wells brought in from Vermont Creek claim this week some ore which he found out there. This was assayed by Mr. W. Pellew Harvey of this town on Thursday last and gave the encouraging result of 2170 oz. per ton. Messrs. Wells & Pollock are shipping twenty tons of high grade galena from this mine to the smelter almost immediately.

REVELSTOKE.

We understand that a well-known mining capitalist has offered Messrs. Walker & Downs a much larger sum than $10,000 for their mine in the Lardeau—the "Silver Cup.

Mr. Innis, who has charge of the shingling machine at the mill, had his right hand crushed in the cog-wheels of the machinery early on Monday morning. He went to Kamloops for medical treatment.

Mr. S. Mason, a gentleman from New Orleans and San Francisco, who is here looking for good mining investments, especialld gold placer mines, went to Big Bend on Monday, in company with George Laforme, one of the owners of the Consolation gold mine, at French Creek. It is supposed the object of the visit is the purchase of the mine, if Mr. Mason is satisfied with the outlook. Mr. Mason has already signed an agreement for bonding the "Silver Cup," in the Lardeau, for $10,000.

Messrs. Mansell and Barcham, graduates from the mining school of Mr. Thomas, of Camborne, Cornwall, England, arrived here on Tuesday. Having heard and read so much of the mineral wealth of West Kootenay in England they have come out to see for themselves, and will make a tour of the Slocan and Lardeau mining districts.

Mr. J. W. Haskins, who has been developing his mine, the "Orphan Boy," and prospecting in the Lardeau country since early spring, arrived up last Saturday for the purpose of ascertaining as to whether there was any probability of the government building a trail this season from Trout lake to the head of Healy Creek, near where he has found a beautiful ledge of galena, which for size and richness is not to be surpassed anywhere on this continent. The width varies from 12ft. to 20ft. and has been traced for over 4000 feet. The lode is clearly defined, both walls being clean cut all the way, a specimen Mr. Haskins brought with him, which was taken out next the hanging wall, showing a polished surface. From his long experience as a miner he is quite satisfied that this ledge is exceedingly rich throughout, and that there is nothing in the Slocan (where he spent several months) that will beat it. The following claims have been staked upon the ledge and were recorded at Revelstoke this week:—King William, by J. W. Haskins; Abbott, by Frank Barnard; Union, by James Wilson; Isabella, by Harry Abbott; Alice by S. D. Townley; Stella, by R. Marpole and Victoria by J. A. Mara. As there is little probability of the Government commencing a trail this year Mr. Haskins intends doing the job himself, and will employ half a dozen men on it. He constructed five miles last year, leaving about nine miles to be completed. He is very enthusiastic over his prospects in the Lardeau, and says that when the district is opened up it will prove to be the richest on the whole continent. He says the C.P.R. should build a railway through the Lardeau Pass from the Northeast Arm to Kootenay Lake, which is open water all the year round. There are thousands of tons of mineral in the Lardeau ready to be taken out and sent to the smelter, and a railway would have all the freight it could handle from the start, besides the whole of the passenger traffic in the winter. Mr. Haskins will ship ore by pack train from the Orphan Boy mine to the Arm. He could send out ten tons a day if transport could be obtained. He left for the mines on Thursday's boat.

Ingratitude.

A citizen who is noted among his friends for being of an exacting turn of mind made a contract with a truckman to move his belongings to another flat for ten dollars. After the moving was all over the citizen sat down on a pile of carpet and cursed a little, doing it in as low a tone as possible, so that the truckman wouldn't hear him. But the latter was a person of unusually sensitive feelings, and he demanded an explanation.

"I don't think you've treated me square," said the citizen.

"Not treated you square!" exclaimed the sensitive truckman. "Didn't I move you for the price I said I would?"

"Yes; but"—hesitated the citizen.

"But what?" demanded the truckman.

"You've broken the piano into five pieces and it's worthless. That piano cost me when new $350."

"Pshaw!" said the truckman. "I fear you are a narrow minded creature! Look at that kitchen table now! Did you ever see a kitchen table moved so completely and so carefully?"

"That is true," admitted the citizen, "but you let the pier glass fall down five stories, and I'm out seventy dollars on pier glass."

"Tut! tut! man," responded the truckman, "you are lacking in breadth of character. Do you expect perfection in these days? Do you want me to employ dudes in lavender kid gloves to handle your stuff on a ten dollar contract? See those flatirons on the silk lounge? Is one of them as much as nicked?"

"Durn the flatirons," said the citizen. "How about that oak sideboard that you split up the middle?"

The oppressed truckman sighed heavily. "Dear, dear," he said, "I suppose one can't please everybody. I didn't tear a single carpet and I saved half the china. I suppose if I didn't worry so much about my patrons' feelings I should be happier.

"Ingratitude is the curse of the day," he concluded to himself, as he drove away to hunt another job.—New York Herald.
